SHR LASER HAIR REMOVAL

Using a patented diode laser technology, SHR Laser Hair Removal permanently destroys hair follicles by using low fluence, repetitive light pulses, targeting the susceptible hair follicles. Compared to IPL and laser light-based hair removal systems, which fire around 2-4 high powered shots into each hair follicle, the SHR fires a minimum of 20-30 shots into each follicle.

This new technology progressively heats the deeper layers of the skin where the hair follicle is growing, while keeping the skin surface cool using Crystal Contact cooling. The In-Motion technology means that the whole area is covered as the applicator 'sweeps' over the treated area several times, ensuring that nothing is missed. The applicator stays in constant contact with the skin rather than lifting off after every flash, which means faster and more accurate treatments.
